PANZER BOYS WIN NON-ATHLETIC HONORS

Robert Sterling, Herman Knuppel, Seymour Masin and Morris Berger.

That college athletes have interests other than in the sports field is evidenced by these four Panzer boys. Robert Sterling of Newark, a member of the basketball, baseball and soccer teams, also is financial manager of The Olympic, senior annual, and vice president of Phi Epsilon Kappa Fraternity.

Herman Knuppel of Weehawken, basketball ace, was awarded the trustees' medal at commencement exercises for the highest average in psychology and education. He also was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Seymour Masin of Newark, basketball star, a junior, has been awarded the Social Science Medal for theory and practice in sociology and community service work.

Morris Berger, also of Newark, basketball player and manager of the soccer team, graduating this year, has been an above-average student and recently passed the national teachers' examination, prepared by the American Council on Education.
